

Author: Renkecz Anita
(Hungarian National Library - Hungarian Electronic Library Department)

Online library for electronic periodicals

The Electronic Periodicals Archives & Database (EPA) is an online inventory service launched in 2004 aimed at creating a registry and bibliographic database of Hungarian online continuing resources. Its other task is to build and maintain a full-text digital periodical-archive. With the introduction of the service, we would also like to highlight some theoretical and practical problems arising during the development of the EPA and working with e-periodicals in general.