Videoconference and streaming tutorial details

Author: András Kovács

The aim of Videoconference and streaming tutorial is to give a detailed overview of H.323 based videoconference and Internet video broadcast (streaming) technologies. Detailed program:

- Videoconference and its applications
- H.323 based videoconference technology
- H.323 videoconference terminals
- NIIF videoconference service in detail
- Streaming and its applications
- Streaming protocols overview
- What equipment do I need to implement a good quality Internet broadcast?
- What softwares should I use? Overview of streaming softwares available for Windows and Linux platforms.
- Windows Media detailed introduction
- An implementation: NIIF streaming system
- Constructing a video archive, the NIIF video on demand archive
- Videoconference and streaming