

PhysHun Search System

PhysHun is a distributed search system which aims to integrate the public information provided by the Hungarian physics community into the World-wide PhysNet System. PhysHun is extendable and built on freely available softwares (MySQL and mnoGoSearch). The database is based on the local data published by the cooperating web sites and is enhanced by Dublin Core meta information.